Asthma
Himrod's Cure

Mr. Himrod,
Sir,

About the first of October last, I was making arrangements to spend the winter in Minnesota, on account of the terrible sufferings I have always experience in this locality during the winter, with Asthma.

At that time your Cure was brought to my notice. I commenced its use and began to improve immediately, (although steadily following my occupation, which is one of constant exposure,) and continued to do so until about the first of January, when it left me entirely. I am happy thus to know that at last there is a reliable cure offered to those who suffer in like manner. You may use this letter in any way you choose.

HAVAS' AGENCY

Rome, 6th.

"VÆ VICTIS!"

It is as difficult to define the wretched political state of the country as it is to excuse the actors who provoke the ruin. For the last six months we all have witnessed the progressive march of a political degradation that is now reaching its apogee; and the veiled sedition that has been preached in town and country, in cities and provinces: the frauds and counterfrauds that have been perpetrated by both parties, the civil war that has been legalized by a party press, the rebellion that has been invoked, and the repression that has been enforced, have at last brought the country to the brink of an abyss into which its politicians vainly try to plunge it.

Already a species of reaction has begun. The meetings on the Bolsa, the petitions to both Governments, the peace committee named to proceed to Rosario, are all measures that point to reaction, recognising as it were the errors of a patriotism which called by any other name would be more intelligible. If this reaction restore to the people a little of their proverbial common sense, then many parties, at present the object of political idolatry, will learn the great danger of their popularity in a country where prudence, wisdom, foresight, moderation, and even justice, have been forgotten. Some of the most renowned tragedies of antiquity afford healthy precedent to the Plate, and, whether it be Roca or Tejedor, Cordoba or Buenos Ayres, the scapegoat to bear the burden of the Nation's errors must be found. If we have a Pharsalia, we must have a Pompey.

It is almost impossible to estimate the loss and ruin which an unnatural war between Buenos Ayres and the other provinces would effect. To measure the consequences of such a fratricidal struggle we must first measure the smiling progress of the province of Buenos Ayres since the days of Cepeda and Pavon. None of our public men have as yet attempted that task. We live in an age of humiliation and regrets; and if the whirlwinds that have gathered over the country should sweep from us the agents of our troubles, no man in the River Plate need put on mourning. Things that were impossible with us a few years ago have now come to pass. One Government stops our steamers entering the River; another smuggles in Remingtons at Quilmes. One Legislature in broad noon day openly votes millions for civil war; whilst other provincial Legislatures follow the pernicious example. The dull ñandubay posts that mere and bound our vast and splendid estancias are better worthy of the name of free men and of the rights of citizens than the demoralized public that tolerates such political degradation.

There can be little doubt that the first outbreak of civil war will produce such a burst of indignation that people will change sides, and the present heads of parties will find their positions difficult. The errors which provoked the civil war will suddenly become so apparent that public retribution on the agents of our troubles will be shorter, sharper, and more decisive than ever before known in this country. The issue will be too tremendous to admit of pardon. 'Væ victis' will be inscribed on both banners: annihilation, not humiliation, must be the inevitable result, and no dove can fly with an olive branch over the Arroyo Media until the men who provoked the ruin are swept for ever from the scene.

The progress of the River Plate within the last few years has been so rapid that the crime of its sons in plunging so fair a land into civil war is all the more heinous.

Whoever gallops over the estancias of Buenos Ayres and sees the splendid capitals that are now employed in these magnificent estates—

Whoever sails up to Santa Fe and journeys for days upon days through the chacras of the colonist—

Whoever plunges into the Gran Chaco and hears the echo of the axe felling the primeaval forests for the carpenters of Europe—

Whoever travels through the Interior and scans the infantile plantations of our sugar, our rice and our tobacco—

Whoever stands on the Mole-head of Buenos Ayres and sees the thousands of strong, brawny immigrants landing on our shores, looking for a home and for independence—

Whoever has brains to understand, eyes to see, and heart to feel the true import of all these national blessings, this national happiness—will curse the villains who would destroy so fair a land; and, whether Argentine or foreigner, Porteño or Provinciano, will kneel to Heaven to implore of Divine Providence that the peace measures now begun may succeed in averting so dire a storm, so great a calamity!

TRIP TO THE CAMP.
No. 4.

Of all the camp towns that I know of, Mercedes is the best. The Hotel Nogues, where we stopped, is large, convenient and well kept. Around a very neat patio are bedrooms and private dining rooms: twenty years ago such a well-managed hotel in the camps of Buenos Ayres was impossible, but to-day these hotels are as well supported as the La Paix or Provence. Due to the establishment of the country tribunals in Mercedes, lawyers, escribanos and procuradores have opened their offices in the streets near the Plaza. Three years had elapsed since my last visit to this assize town: times had wonderfully changed since then, yet Mercedes, in the interlude, seemed rather to have improved than otherwise. Our party then was a special excursion under the guidance of Mr. Cambaceres, the chairman of the railway, to show Mr. Bouwer, Messrs Baring Brothers' agent, the road. All the public buildings and institutions we then visited, so that now I limited my observation to the stores and workshops.

The well-known camp store of Messrs Torroba has changed sides, and is now in the stately two-storey house at the Plaza corner, formerly occupied by the club; and I believe does the largest business in the town. The elder members of this successful firm have retired and are closing the chapter in their native land, Spain. Every member of the firm speaks English, and good cause the partners had to learn it, since it is admitted the support and patronage afforded the house by the Irish sheepfarmers of the district was the great foundation of its deserved success. Although but a little after sunrise when strolling through the town, I found everyone up and stirring, even the lawyers and escribanos who, if not reading their briefs, were quietly sipping mate.

Some few things in Mercedes surprised me. To find in this place a large carriage factory, was every thing (save jaunting-cars) were made and sold, spoke the affluence and we suppose the extravagance of the people. Broughams, victorias, landaus, dog-carts and jardineros, were all there for sale, and the proprietor does a very large business. At one of the many carpenter shops we stopped to inspect some of the fine cedar planks they were working The cedar was from Paraguay and for window-frames for an estancia house in the district. The carpenter stated that Paraguay cedar and Gran Chaco cedar are now very abundant and much used; he considers it the finest and best of all woods (for the carpenters) that grow in South America, and much of it now goes forward to Europe, where the carpenters also appreciate it.

The quintas around Mercedes give to the town a vitality independent of the tribunals and escritos, and establish what the Standard for twenty years has maintained—namely, that every town in the camp, if properly managed by its Municipality, should be the centre of chacras and grain farms, and not the mere gathering of a lot of pulperias, tiendas and billares, which I regret to say even to this hour form the chief feature of most of our country towns. Mercedes is so enveloped in chacras and quintas that it takes a good hour to get through them to the Plaza. On the night previous we drove so long through this maze of chacras that we thought the driver had lost his way. On all sides of the town you see the most smiling green fields of alfalfa, flanked with poplar trees and cocks and ricks of hay at every chacra, the evidence of rural prosperity and independence. At many of these chacras I noticed them making hay bales to send to town by railway, and I readily admit that from what I saw of Mercedes and its work-shops, streets, hotels and chacras, I left with the most favorable impressions.

One point alone about this town struck me, and that was that in a district where our countrymen so much preponderate, I could see nothing whatever English in the town. Mr James Casey showed me the shut-up Convent that was built by the Irish sheepfarmers for the Irish Sisters of Mercy in Buenos Ayres; the place looked a fine two-storey, well-built establishment, occupying about a square, and most conveniently situated. The interior of the building, Mr Casey told me, is very fine; but as we had not the key, we could only see the outside. I left for the hotel in the hope that this institution will soon be re-opened, and that the difficulties that have led to its being shut up will be overcome by the Irish people of the district, who have every cause to complain of its present forlorn condition. In the hands of any other nationality this building would have better fortunes, but this ungrateful topic leads me to considerations I wish to avoid for the moment. It occurred to me, however, that there must be some secret neutralizing element at work to check Irish institutions in this land. During my sojourn in Ireland in 1878 I visited the splendid institution of the Passionist Fathers at Harold's Cross—a place perhaps one of the poorest of all of Dublin's suburbs—yet that institution flourishes and works more good in the neighbourhood than the worthy Fathers are willing to admit; whilst here, in the very centre of the richest Irish sheepfarming district in Buenos Ayres, this fine convent and school is shut up and deserted. Possibly Father Martin may aid us in discovering the cause which effects such decay. The question is a grave one, and must sooner or later be discussed.

All is not sunshine in the camp; and if the splendid property of my countrymen who have spanned the whole province with their fee-simple estancias, millions of sheep, and thousands and hundreds of thousands of horned cattle, awoke a just pride, so also the wretched hovel of the 'puestero Ingles,' without quinta or tree, or the least evidence of industry, provoked a sigh and sharply reminded me that if certain interests in the camp point to decline, the causes are as clear as the sun at noonday. These causes call for discussion: no one who crosses the camp can fail to see them, and I trust I shall have the ability to deal with, as I have the courage to attack them.

THE TEN CENTS WAR

BOMBARDMENT OF CALLAO.

The Lima papers thus describe the bombardment.

"On the 22d April, at 2 p.m., the Huascar opened fire on the Peruvian war vessels in the dock. Half an hour later the Santa Rosa battery began to answer her, but the shot fell short. At 3 o'clock the Marañon took fire, but the flames were speedily vanquished.

"At 4.10 p.m. the Huascar and Augamos concentrated their fire on the Peruvian vessels in the Dock, and a shell set the Arsenal on fire. Another shell burst, bang! in the very centre of Plaza Victoria.

"At night the Chilian ships hauled off to near Lorenzo Island, and they then sent in torpedoes against our vessels, but they failed to do anything. Passengers by the coast steamer say that a shell burst on the quarter-deck of the Union killing nine sailors and wounding many others.

"The Chilian Admiral kept up the firing incessantly till the 23rd on which day the panic in Callao and Lima was at its height. It was rumoured by the frightened crowds that the Chilians would keep on bombarding till the Peruvians sued for peace.

"In Callao two torpedoes burst while being lauded, killing a Lieutenant and 8 sailors. Great damage has been done to the town. The corvettes Union and Oroya were hit several times and lost many men.

"Nearly the whole population rushed away to Lima, carrying whatever they could with them: the road to Lima is still one long string of flying people.

"In Lima the most dreadful confusion prevails. The Chilian army continues to advance in three divisions, in spite of the dearth of water and forage, and the whole army expects to be at Tacna on 1st May.

"The Bolivian General Campero has effected a junction with Montero, who has yielded the command in Chief to him.

"The population of Tacna and Arica are flying to Iquique, fearing the approaching battle, and also in consequence of the terrible scarcity of food.

"On the night of the 30th April the Chilian advanced guard was only 24 miles from Tacna, so perhaps the battle will be fought to-morrow.

RIO NEGRO MAP.

To H.E. the President of the Argentine Republic, Dr. Don Nicolas Avellaneda,

Mr. President,

I have the honor of placing in your hands the plan of the Pampa and the Rio Negro, drawn up in the late Rio Negro Expedition.

The marches and the notes of the different columns during the campaign have been the basis of the work.

I have studied the surveys and diaries of the commanders and officers of the different divisions which started from Buenos Ayres, Santa Fe, Cordoba, San Luis and Mendoza and beat the Pampa to the Rio Negro and the Andes. I have accurately traced all these surveys and descriptions, made by the officers of the army during their glorious and fatiguing marches.

After comparing these notes with those of the military engineers, who worthily handled both theodolite and Remington, I have found them to coincide and give a most accurate account of the country through which they marched.

This plan, therefore, is the collective work of the expeditionary army, and has been prepared according to the special orders given by the Minister of War, General Roca, to the chiefs of the divisions in operation, when he took command of the forces, thus obeying your instructions.

As I have not been able to include within the narrow margins of this map all the topographical details furnished, I have included them in a book, now in the printer's hands. Therein are comprised the marches of the divisions and some considerations on the future results of this Rio Negro campaign, besides some details on the occupation of the Andes, the head-quarters of the savages.

The book and plan will appear together, and will portray to the public this grand feat of the Government of Y.E., the benefits of which the country reaps and couples with the names of Y.E.'s Ministers of War, Dr. Don Adolfo Alsina and General Julio A. Roca.

I salute Y.E. most respectfully,
Manuel José Olascoaga.

LATEST FROM PARIS.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Another novelty for Parisians was the ball at the Chinese Embassy: it was successful in point of brilliancy, attendance and organisation, and the Celestial Empire will have no reason to decapitate the Marquis of Tseng, for he has held high the dragon drapeau. He received his guests as if bred in European courts, coupled with an affability and easy dignity quite refreshing when contrasted with starched and stuck-up diplomatists, and the sure road to gain even more than French sympathies. I never witnessed more thorough fun than when the Chinese officials accepted the invitations to dance a quadrille: this concession to western customs was highly relished from its spontaneity and good-will. The Marchioness had more pretty ladies at her reception than have been at any official 'rout' this season, and the toilettes were uniformly charming. The conservatory was deliciously cool and the flowers choice; a fountain played in the centre with great effect. The buffet was served 'a la Francaise;' a dinner for sixteen guests preceded the soiree, and one of the invited, a lady, assured me she relished some of the native dishes. The swallows' nest soup is a substance like skate, united to pigeon's eggs and the young shoots of bamboo; the latter are only known in the form of walking canes to us; shark's fins have the merit of being exciting like garlic, and might at fast supper parties thus do duty for 'potage de bisque' and bordelais cray-fish; the Pekin ham had an attractivs juniper flavor, and may perhaps rival Yorkshires and Cincinnatis at the coming ham fair; softening last year's stock in Old Tom ought to convert them into Tsin-Houas; the preserve Teou-Feuni ought to be in every house-keeper's pantry, only it might induce the boys when home from school to violate the decalogue.

The epilogue of all glories here below is an auction, and the knock of a hammer and the fatal 'gone,' close inevitably palaces and cottages great and little destinies. It is the 'denouement' for the thousand and one comedies of human life. The Duc d'Aumale is selling his town house in the Faubourg St. Honore, and the Princess Mathilde her mansion in the rue Courcelles, which was under the Empire, the eclectic rendezvous for artistes and litterateurs; the Empress only visited there twice; she called it a Jacobin club; but the truth is, she never forgave the Princess for opposing her marriage with Napoleon III., a marriage fatal for the dynasty, but doubly so for France. The Emperor came there occasionally in the capacity of historian: it was there was regulated the ceremony for his election and reception as member of the Academy, till Thiers blew over the house of cards. A nephew of the Princess Mathilde now occupies the world with his auction at San Donato. Old King Jerome with his pretty daughter, Mathilde, were residing at Florence about 1840; Prince Anatole Demidoff had been his banker 'ad libitum,' but one day he sent in the account, and the Princess was handed over in 1840 as a write off. She eloped with Count Nienwerkerke, but the carriage with the trunks containing her wardrobe was stopped, and remained in that State in an out-house for twenty years till her husband's death. She managed to seize the diamonds; the portrait of her father was in a diamond frame: she took the latter and left the likeness. In any case her husband treated her badly, and the Emperor of Russia compelled him to allow her an annuity of 250,000 francs, and on which she now lives. The present Prince Demidoff, when his first wife died, had nearly all her hair made into jewellery and that he wore, and the floors of his rooms were carpeted with the contents of her wardrobe. A second wife cured him of his inconsolable grief, as a similar remedy did such heart-broken widows as the Duchesses de Berry and de Morny.

'Les Etrangleurs de Paris' is a five act sensational drama by Adolphe Belot, and represented at the Porte Saint Martin theatre. The subject is a mysterious crime, and so, more palpitating than virtue. The twelve scenes are very emotional, and will prove not only a popular, but a permanent success.

The authorities have declined to allow the Cenotaph statue of the Prince Imperial to be exhibited in France. It can remain in Westminster Abbey.

It is rumoured that in the South Seas some natives have been so well converted that, after roasting their Missionary, they discovered it was a Friday, and did not eat him till next day.

LATEST FROM TUCUMAN

May 1st.

Dear Standard,

Events do not march so rapidly here, now that the Ministers are gone, as to require an active chronicler. Nevertheless, there is very much to say about this province, which is so much neglected by the general public of Buenos Ayres.

Tucuman is destined to become one of the richest provinces of the Argentine Confederation. Not the most fertile spot of all North America can compare to it for productiveness, and adaptability to all sorts of fruits and vegetation. The openings for capital are so great that you would do well to advise your Irish sheep-farmer friends to sell out and come up here. As you may see in the Message of the Provincial Government of last year, the value of the sugar crop of one year has paid for the machinery imported during the year previous.

I purpose to send you shortly some information about the sugar business. The results show it to be the best investment of this rich Republic.

Your old friend Don Antonio Garcia y Garcia, who is at present inspecting the National schools, gives me the following statistics of this city:—

There are in Tucuman one National College, one normal, and 38 primary schools in the department, four churches, four chapels, two banks, one theatre, three hotels, three breweries, five boticas, and three markets.

The population is 25,000 in Municipal limits. There are 261 pianos in the city (Standard measure of civilization). During 1879; 63,664 letters, 37,709 newspapers, and 8,201 official dispatches passed through the Post-office. In the central Plaza there are 101 orange trees, and on musical evenings 329 ladies promenade in the plaza, of whom 320 are 'buenas mozas.'

These data will help you to form some idea of the state of advancement of Tucuman.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The parting scene at the Central Station yesterday at one o'clock, on the occasion of departure of passengers for the s.s. Elbe, defies description. Beaming faces expressing the fondest assurances of friendship; oceans of tears from lovely eyes, that the bravest Jack Tar's heart would drown, and sufficient to float the Channel squadron, were visible on the disconsolate and grief-stricken faces of departing ladies; every one pushing and fighting his way through the surging crowd to get an embrace from his friends before departure. Perhaps since the Central Station rose into existence it has never witnessed such a cosmopolitan gathering of leave-taking families of every prominent nationality in the city, with their innumerable 'relaciones' and 'parientes.' They all, as they depart, turn over a fresh leaf of the book of life, to jot down their adventures and experiences during their absence. How curious and interesting to read their several tales on their return a year hence!

Buenos Ayres wins again. On Thursday and yesterday the United Club received news per carrier pigeon post of the results of the boat-races at Montevideo in which the Buenos Ayres crews took part. The despatches ran so:—

"Thursday 6th.

"2.20 p.m.

"International—B. Ayres won by two lengths.

"4 p.m.

"Double Sculls—First heat; B. Ayres won by five lengths.

"Friday 7th.

"Buenos Ayres won deciding heat, Double Sculls."

We beg to congratulate our friends of the Buenos Ayres Rowing Club on their victory.

The Plato and Bessel affair is still the main topic of conversation in foreign circles. Mr Egerton, H.M. Chargè d'Affaires, has the matter now in hand. When it is remembered what satisfaction Brazil had to give some years ago for detaining a Royal Mail steamer even four hours, Dr Plaza's successor may have to leave room in his estimates for 1881 for a small sum to indemnify the owners and passengers of the Plato and Bessel for their unwarrantable detention, to say nothing of the apology which Lord Granville will exact for the outrage on the British flag.

It is with the most sincere regret we have to announce the premature death of the beautiful and accomplished Miss Josephine Arca, the only and much beloved daughter of Mr J. Arca, (a partner of the eminent firm of Chas & Co.) Mr J. Arca is one of the most respected merchants in this city, and in 30 years hard application to business has succeeded in raising the firm to its present successful position. After so many years of toil Mr Arca was induced to absent himself for a short time, and accompanied by his family, to make a tour in Europe, and we now get the sad news that his darling daughter, in the morning of life, has been carried off by a fever contracted in Milan.

The Rev. Martin P. Ferguson, the highly esteemed Scotch Chaplain at Chascomus, sailed yesterday in the Elbe on a visit to Bonnie Scotland, after an absence of 17 years. Previous to his leaving Chascomus, his congregation presented him with a purse of sovereigns, to show their high appreciation of his character and valuable services. We wish this most estimable clergyman a very pleasant trip and speedy return.

It didn't rain on Thursday, as so many croakers expected (and perhaps hoped) it would. The day was delicious, and Sports, Races etc had all a crowded attendance. Yesterday was one of those 'pet' days which often precede a tremendous burst of rain. Such is badly wanted, as a miller's wig, or the Standard cellar, is but a faint type of the terrible dryness which now prevails in the camp.

There was a pause in politics yesterday, due, perhaps, to the fact that the country is now face to face with the dread spectre that has haunted it for so many months past—'Horrida Bella!' A decided reaction has set in, and the cry for 'Peace! Peace!' has spread to the camp. The estanceiros are getting greatly alarmed, as they now see that their sheep, their cows, their horses, all the accumulated wealth of years of honest toil, will be swept away in case civil strife ensue. Any of the politicians who have estancias will be the first to suffer. Our voice is still for Peace, and we still believe in it, but it will be a tight shave, if the people, the real People, do not rise in their might and tell the place-hunters in thundering tones to 'ground arms.'

On Thursday the annual examinations took place at Mrs Rae's English school Caballito; nearly all the children of the various families in the neighbourhood attended, and the sight was most charming. Mr Reynolds, aided by Dr Del Campo, and others kindly officiated as examiners. Although nearly all the children belong to Argentine families, they all repeated English poetry with the greatest correctness and in fact under the benign influence of Mrs. Rae and her estimable daughters, the whole Caballito district is becoming English. The show of needle work, drawing, Berlin wool, writing, knitting etc. almost rivalled a Bazaar; and in complimenting Mrs. Rae on her great success, we have to thank her on behalf of the neighbours for her untiring exertions with the children, who have all advanced so rapidly under her tuition.

In reference to the short time available for erecting the Exhibition Palace in the Plaza, we had a visit yesterday from a leading member of the Committee, and he assured us that the Messrs. Beaumarie and Co., the contractors, are now so far advanced with the preparatory work, that they can put up the building in a fortnight. This set tles the question.

There were a great many Provincial Guard uniforms strolling and prancing about town on Thursday. The Bomberos, with their huge red epaulets and pompons, looked quite French.

News was received on Thursday that, on the previous night, the Argentine gunboat Vigilante had captured off Montevideo a lighter heavily laden with arms, which had cleared for Paraguay unknown to the authorities.

One of our advertizing friends appeals in another column to-day for a 'perfect woman,' but we believe his ideas of perfection only extend to beefsteaks, chops etc being done to a turn. In all other respects perfect women are, of course, as plentiful as blackberries, but in this?

The latest news about Col. Latorre is, that he was on his way back to Montevideo when his friends there wired him not to think of it, or he would be likely to play the leading role at a first class funeral. The Colonel was last heard of at Pelotas. In our opinion the Colonel is bound for foreign parts, and we shall not be surprised to read, during the summer, his name in the list of fashionable visitors to the Lakes of Killarney.

There will be a grand 'funcion' at the Politeama to night, for the benefit of all the city hospitals. The immortal Hamlet is the play, after which the screaming farce of 'The Two Deaf Men.' The games etc, for children go on daily from noon till 6 p.m.

We much regret to hear that Dr. Carlyon, house surgeon of the British Hospital, is seriously unwell.

We understand there has been a great demand during the week for tickets for the performance at the Club Germania, in aid of the Printing Centenary, which comes off to-night. There are still a few on sale at Mr. Ernst Nolte's, Cangallo 95; and those who wish to spend a pleasant evening amidst the youth and beauty of good German society have now a chance which rarely offers. Ball commences at the conclusion of the performances, about eleven o'clock. See advertisement.

The Rev, Father Martin will preach to-morrow in the Merced Church, after the Mass at one o'clock. In the morning, at eight o'clock, there will be a general communion.

Mrs. Dillon and Miss Murphy, of Lobos, left yesterday in the Elbe on a trip to Europe. Their brother, Dr. Murphy, is staying in Paris. We wish them a pleasant trip. It is, indeed, a happy sign to see so many of our rich estanciero families making trips to Europe: it speaks volumes for the progressive prosperity of this country.

At last the public is taking some interest in the Printing Centenary, and the Politeama Gardens are daily crowded. The success of the feasts is due to the fair sex and the little ones. The male sex is remarkable for its absence.

Dr. Lucio V. Lopez left by the mail for Europe. The honorable gentleman has sent in his resignation as Deputy in the Provincial Chambers. We wish him a pleasant trip.

Weather and wives permitted our young friends of the Junior Athletic Society to hold a most successful competition meeting at the Palermo grounds on Thursday. The grand stand was literally crammed with ladies, while the gentlemen filled the grounds. Along the fence a long string of private carriages was formed. Small pic-nic parties added to the beauty of the scene, such as which, the Palermo Cricket grounds have not witnessed for many a year.

There was great consternation caused the other night in Calles Chacabuco and Victoria, about 10 p.m. Some toy bomb-shells were being experimented on in front of the premises of the Rivadavia Centenary Committee. These harmless objects produced a noise similar to rattling volleys of musketry, greatly frightening the people. Some ladies fainted, but managed beforehand to rush into the 'tiendas', whilst the male portion approached the Calle Chacabuco. Many thought that the Tiros and the Bomberos were engaged.

Whoever crosses the Plaza Victoria cannot help smiling at the hybrid architecture of the Cabildo. It is most ridiculous to see the tower rising to such a height, quite out of proportion with the lower building. The architects intend building another storey, in order to harmonise the whole.

THE B. AYRES EXHIBITION.

B. Ayres, May 4, 1880.

To the Editor of the Standard,

Sir,

I trust you will permit me to reply very briefly to your leading article in to-day's issue, entitled 'To be or not to be.' I do not refer to the letter addressed to you by 'Anglo-Porteño.' This gentleman simply expresses his personal opinion concerning the desirability of postponing the Exhibition appointed to take place in this city in September next, and giving the Show a less local character; making it Universal instead of Continental. Anglo-Porteño, I am sure, means well, and of course has a perfect right to express his opinions, however much these may differ from those of the Exhibition Committee.

But I must decidedly object to the remarks with which you have seen fit to preface Anglo-Porteño's communication. You say "that there is a large section of the public which takes a vivid interest in the coming Buenos Ayres Exhibition, a fete which up to a short time ago was expected to be more or less of an International character," &c., &c. "It now appears that there is to be nothing foreign at the Exhibition but machinery, and it is said that the Commissioners intend to give a very limited interpretation to the word." No one can read the above extracts without being led to believe that the Commissioners have changed their plans, and have within a recent period resolved to limit the Exhibition to that of Argentine products in general and of machinery only from foreign countries. I scarcely expected from the editor of the Standard such a display of ignorance with regard to a matter which has been before the public for two years.

The rules and programme of the intended Exhibition have been printed and circulated by thousands for more than a year. They have been translated into foreign languages and distributed all over the world, and if the editor of the Standard had but taken the trouble to read them there would have been no occasion for this letter. I shall simply state in reply, to the inaccurate statements in your leading article, that the Commissioners have in no way altered the programme of the Exhibition, which was, and is, intended to be a show of natural and industrial products of every kind contributed by the different countries of South America, and, in addition, of machinery from any country in or out of America. There will, likewise, be an Exhibition, for a very limited period, of animals for breeding purposes, open to the world.

The Industrial Club, who were the projectors of the Exhibition, did not consider themselves in a position to undertake the organization of a Show more general in its character, and resolved not to attempt too much. The Government could not offer more than its moral support; this, and a modest capital subscribed amongst the members themselves, is not sufficient to carry out any grander scheme than the one adopted, and which the Industrial Club, in spite of the innumerable obtacles which have been cast in the way, are resolved to carry out in September next. If successful, 'so far as it goes,' to use Anglo-Porteño's expression, the Club will willingly concur in any efforts to get up at a future period a World's Show in Buenos Ayres, which may 'vie with the best that has yet been seen.'

I am, Sir,

Yours faithfully,

A Member of the Industrial Club.

Quite in accordance with the evident tendency of the gold market on the 6th, the precious metal opened at 31 for all dates. The actual necessities for the day, indicated by the cash sales, only reached $63,000, closing sellers at 5 cents advance. For the end of the month $306,000 were done at the uniform price of 31. May and June showed insignificant operations at 31 and 31.05. A joint transaction for July and August fetched only 30.95.

Cedulas denote a continued weakness, opening for cash at 85½ and closing at 85⅝. For the end of the month, commencing at cash prices, they fell to 85 round.

Treasury Bills suffer most in the general depression of stock, being dealt in at 75 for cash.

In National Bank shares nothing whatever was effected.

A curious feature in to-day's Bolsa operations was the delivery 'on efectivo' of a considerable quantity of sovereigns and condors. Since the institution of the cheque system, gold 'in propria persona' has never been seen at the liquidator's counter.

Mr Eggerton, British Minister, returned last evening from the camp, and we understand that the necessary diplomatic steps will be immediatly taken for a formal 'reclamo' from the National Government for its detention of the Plato and Bessel.

At 4 o'clock it was stated on 'Change that the question of the Plato and Bessel was in a fair way to a satisfactory solution; the British Minister having had already two interviews with the National authorities. Judging by the jovial appearans of Captains Tanner and Hudson, no one could for a moment surmise that they were ticket-of-leave men.

Special gold was freely offered, and sold today 1⅛ 1¼ premium.

The Pacific steamer Britannia arrived at Montevideo to-day from Valparaiso. She made the run round in the remarkably short time of 7 days and 6 hours, and sails to-morrow for Europe.

We regret to say that our advices from the camp are most disastrous, particularly in the South. It was said on 'Change that on one large estancia beyond Dolores gangs of peones have been engaged to 'cuerear'. At the renowned estancia Fortuna de Peña the cattle have to be moved off. At Ajo, Tuyu, and even Tres Arroyos, the sera is most alarming. In the West the camps are somewhat better, and at Bragado, Junin and Lincoln there is no scarcity of grass or water. In the North, however, nearly all the farmers are moving, not only cattle, but also sheep, and if the rain does not come, the losses will be tremendous. At Salto and Chacabuco there is plenty of pasturage for sheep, but the cattle must in many places be moved further out. All the men who bought cheap outside lands have hit the nail on the head, and the cattle are being sent out to those lands as fast as the peones can drive them.

A friend who visited some of the South ern camps informs us that the estancieros there have still plenty of grass for sheep; but should the long wished for rain not come soon, cattle must be moved. The price asked for camp is $3 m|c. per head for horned cattle per month. This is a high figure should the owners be obliged to pay it for any lengthened period, and would make the first cost of novillos very dear, when peons' wages, loss in transit &c. are added.

Some National Provedoria Bills are reported to have been discounted at 18 per cent per annum.

Wool is arriving somewhat more freely, and is consequently exhibiting a weaker tendency. The sale of a small lot of defective wool is reported at 84 m|c.

Sheepskins are also week. A small parcel of matadero were done at $35 m|c.

Owing to the dubious condition of the electoral question, and the departure of the Elbe and the French packet, great dullness exists in business circles.

A sale of 5,000 cow hides, from the Casa Blanca Saladero is reported at 53, delivered here.

We also hear of 300 Santa Fe hides, from Barracas, at 175 m|c. Advices from Europe and the United States continue unfavorable respecting this article. Horse hair from the rivers shows little animation. The American brig Teneriffe arrived at Rosario on the 5th inst. to load hides and bales for Boston. The United States mail, with New York dates to 5th April, is expected by the Cordillera, due in Montevideo on Sunday next.

Freights remain stationary at 20s. and 10 per cent for England, and 20 frs. with 10 per cent for Havre and Antwerp.

Coal men are in great glee on account of the arrival of two vessels in Montevideo. One cargo has been sold there, and the other sailed here at $f.12.

Good gold proved weaker in the afternoon, and for round lots 1½ pm. per cent is feasible.

Gold closed steady at 31 sellers for the end of the month, and at 30.95 for June.

On Montevideo there have been no transactions. Rates are quoted 1½ to 1⅝ prem.

In commercial on Europe literally nothing has been done.

Mr Wissner, who has arrived from Sta. Fe, was welcomed on 'Change; he says there is some difficulty up there about the seed wheat promised to the colonists.

Letters from Rosario state that the paper money is at 30 o/o dis, and the money market looking like a crisis. Merchants don't care to sell in paper, and the Bank of Sta. Fe appears to do very little business.

At 4 p.m. there was rather a better feeling in the market; gold ruled easier, sellers 31 for end of month. The Camara Syndical again met to arrange its steps.

At the Provincial Bank to-day only 3 millions discounted, and discount rates in the market looking up.

Advices from Montevideo report the Centro Comercial Meeting on Monday a very dull affair. The attendance was wretchedly small. The subscription was reduced to two dollars monthly, and some other unimportant business transacted. Dr Meliton Gonzalez, Director of Public Works, has gone to Cuñapiru. The Chilian wine recently imported in Montevideo is said to be selling well. Messrs Dumaresq Le Bas & Co. are expecting a splendid lot of Durham cattle by the Tycho Brahe. The firm of Risso and Schiaffino is dissolved, the latter carrying on the business. The lighter Pensiero, with a cargo from Buenos Aires, has been totally lost off Carmelo; crew saved; cargo gone to the bottom.

Captain Dyke, commander of R.M.S. Elbe, took leave on 'Change and went on board at 3 o'clock. The Elbe took a most unusually large number of mail bags, as besides her own mail; she took the bags for Britannia. She took also—

£42,000 stg. in Bonds
40,000 pats in bar silver
12,500 salted hides
4,000 dry hides
1,000 bales wool
600 bags beans
800 cases meat and tongues
1st class passengers 100
2nd " 20
3rd " 110

Rather a full ship.

Mr Blichfeld, of Ajo, and Dr Green, of Tuyu, leave to-morrow on a trip to Cordoba and Tucuman.

The best news on 'Change was the rather threatening weather, the rain seems close at hand; we believe that this month there will be plenty of rain, and the farmers must never doubt it.

At afterhours the following sales:—

The urgent invitation by the Bolsa Syndic to the cream of the commercial potentates of the market met with a hearty response yesterday. For some time before the conference commenced the hall of the Bolsa was occupied by a goodly gathering of members and brokers who were interested in the result. After about an hour's deliberation the 'notables' decided to present a petition to the two Governments representing the universal anxiety of the commercial body for the preservation of peace. They have addressed a note to each Power requesting them to specify a date when a delegation will be received; and we understand that to-morrow will be fixed on. Meantime signatures from all respectable business men are being collected. To-day a meeting of the "Centro de Comercio" added to the already weighty commercial opinion elicited on the political question. It is to be hoped that this respectful intervention will carry its due influence. But, descending from the higher moral territory of ethics to the lower but more practical one of self interest, it is evident that civil war does not suit either party. The ultimate victor in the fratricidal strife would enter on the lugubrious administrative prospect of empty Treasury chests, ruined foreign credit, disaffected citizens, and a paralysed commerce. Mutual forbearance and common sense alone can and, we believe, will tide the country over the present imminent peril. If these fail, the robustest and most promising of the world's young nations will foolishly forfeit forty years of its future.

The clearance of the R.M.S. Elbe was the business of the day. Since the sailing of the Boyne in the year 1872, when the old mole could hardly hold all the passengers, and a special nursery cabin for the accommodation of 200 children had to be arranged, we have not had such a Royal Mail hegira as to-day. Four long pages of Mr Green's book filled with the names of passengers. Mr Maderna and family have postponed their departure till next steamer. We hope to see all our friends back again at the close of the year, after their pleasant and reinvigorating European trip.

Captain Hudson, commander of s.s. Bessel, was warmly welcomed on 'Change; also Capt. Tanner, of the Plato, they both came ashore on Wednesday evening and landed their passengers, but the Argentine picquet of guards still remains on board the Bessel, which really seems inexplicable, since even if the steamer had arms on board, she could not be held responsible, being a mere common carrier and receiving all cases contents unknown, as is the custom of the trade.

The following clearances from Montevideo are reported:—

Span. patache F Aballi, by J Cibils & Sons, for Habana with 222,060 kilos tasajo.

Span. polacra Daria, by G Sanjuan & Co., for ports of Brazil with 174,672 kilos tasajo.

Span. polacra goleta Luisa, by Tremoleras Brothers, for ports of Brazil with 153,242 kilos tasajo.

Belgian s.s. Horrex, by C R Horne, took as follows:—

For Antwerp—
1,346 salted cow hides
9 bales hair
2 bales lambskins
1 bale alpaca wool
126 bales wool
48 bales sheepskins

For Rio Janeiro—
120 bultos fruits
£300 in notes.

Germ. s.s. Nürnberg, by J R Schwartz, took the following cargo:—

For Antwerp—
123 bales garras
7 bales hair
36 bales rags
19 bales wool
4 bales lambskins

For Bremen—
90 bales tobacco

For Hamburg—
2 bales tobacco

From B. Aires for Antwerp—
2,100 bales wool
5,000 salted cow hides.

Our advices from Montevideo this morning are as follows—

"The past month has been most prosperous to wheat holders. The rise in the prices of wheat in Buenos Aires has given room for large profits, even up to 40 o/o. A more active commercial movement has ensued between both countries, an activity which would continue, if it were fostered by more liberal and reciprocal custom laws. Our wheat export has veered round since February to the Argentine Confederation, as the transactions left larger profits than with Brazil. The limits of prices for export to Brazil was 7 to 8 rls., whilst in Buenos Aires the figures rose to 10 r's. for flour and $f.7 to 7½ the 9 arr. of wheat. Our millers endeavour to compete with the speculators for B. Aires and bought heavily; but had to give in, and continued selling their flour at the usual rates, in spite of the rise in wheat; it would have been more profitable to sell the wheat, instead of turning it into flour. Nevertheless the general aspect of the market is not favorable. The Argentine Republic is still in need of much wheat, as the present prices and our exports show, and several cargoes are expected from Chile. From North America cargoes of wheat are also imminent. We thus not only lose the B. Aires market, but we run the risk of seeing our own market encumbered with these arrivals. We may, therefore, depend upon a fall in prices. The millers, who are now in a fix, can only be relieved by a more liberal law, suppressing all duties on foreign corn, both here and in the Argentine Republic. The production of the year promises to be double that of the last.

"The wheat arrivals during the month have been steady and readily bought. The millers attempted to buy in, but the constant rise in Buenos Aires altered their prices. The best qualities fetched 60 to 65 rls.; to-day the market weakened. About 20,000 fanegas have been bought and sold outside the market by the millers and speculators. The following is the estimate of the stock in the country:—

25,000 fanegas in the hands of export speculators
60,000 fan. in the country districts
40,000 fan. in the mills, and
50,000 fan. all about the camp making a total of from 175,000 to 200,000 fanegas; hereof from 30,000 to 40,000 fan. will be exported to the Argentine Confederation. There are scarcely any buyers for Candial wheat. Barley has fallen much, but maize is firm; before the latter can be exported prices must fall heavily, and even then we will have a formidable competitor in B. Aires, where the crop is superabundant.

"If millers had limited their sales to the local consumption flour would be quoted at 11 rls., as matters stand the article is firm at 10-10½ rls. Little stock.

"The export of mules would have greatly increased, if the breed of the animals were of a better kind. We have exported in this line to—

	Mules.	Horses.
Cape	1,780	660
Antillas	1,420	—
Mauritius	2,870	30

These figures represent the exports of twelve months. Better training and better breed would greatly develop this commerce between the River Plate and the Cape.

"The working of the saladeros during the fortnight has been very slow. Hides are in better demand, but tallow has fallen. For the moment neither of these articles are offering, and fears are entertained lest the saladeros work in future too much at a time. Dry cow hides are weak. Wools of all kinds are much sought. The sheepskins, although in bad condition, are selling at firm prices.

"The family of the esteemed Mr Ch. Dich embarked in the Cosmos for B. Aires.

"$10,000 Consolidados of 1872 were sold yesterday at 20 o/o cash.

"In the Public Credit Office paper money has been burned to the amount of $8,612, representing $2,600 gold.

"The monthly cuota of the Bolsa has been reduced to $2; the rent of the establishment has also been reduced to $400. In all the assemblies of the syndicate members shine by their absence, showing a total indifference as to the proceedings.

"Two bales of hair were sold yesterday at 18$75 in barraca.

"4,000 salted novillo hides have been sold these days by two saladeros, guaranteeing 68 pounds, at the supposed price of 7$95 the pesada put on board. 1,500 salted cow hides have been sold at reserved prices, weight 51 to 52 lbs.

"The working yesterday in Mr P Piñeiruo's saladero in Guaviyu amounted to 800 animals.

"The passengers per Iberia, Calderon, and Montevideo, in quarantine on Flores Island, have been set at liberty. To-morrow perhaps the patacho Hugo will also be set in quarantine; ditto Venturita and Canovas.

"A newspaper correspondent telegraphs that Latorre crossed the frontier at P. so de Valiente, followed by 6 companions. He was well received at Pelotas, where he attended some races. Some say he is gathering men to recross the frontier."

Copy of Analysis by Professor Kyle.

National College, Buenos Ayres, November 29th 1879.

Messrs. M. Forrester & Co., Buenos Ayres.

Gentlemen—I haveat your request made a careful examination of he sample of JEYES'S SHEEP DIP you handed to me on the 18th inst. I find it to be a well made preparation of Phenols and other Tar products, combined with soap, retaining the liquid form and easily mixible with water, from which it does not afterwards separate.

The proportion of active ingredients amounts to rather over 80 per cent. it is free from Mineral Poisons and from Caustic Alkalies. In my opinion it is well worth the attention of Sheepfarmers, and will be found by them to be convenient, safe, and I do not doubt, very efficacious as a Sheep Dip. From the readiness with which the preparation can be mixed with cold water it ought to prove most acceptable as a domestic disinfectant, being more convenient than crude Carbolic Acid or the disinfectant powders so frequently employed.

I am, Gentlemen, your obedient servant,

JOHN J. J. KYLE, Professor of Chemistry.

Extracts from Testimonials

From Mr. Alex. Stewart, Bailiff to H. D. Pochin, Esq. Rodnent Hall. Wales—

"The Sheep Dip is the best that I have ever used. I have not seen a single Maggot on any of the Sheep since we used it. The wool looks beautiful, and to all appearance improved in quality. I feel satisfied it will be an invaluable boon to our large Sheepfarmers in the Colonies, and it only wants to be appreciated."
